Epstein took his life hours before Tisha B'av: Was this a coincidence or was it a veiled message?

Amy Neustein, Ph.D. | Special to the Jewish News 1 hr ago

In recent weeks, legislators have been raising questions about Jeffrey Epstein's child-sex trafficking empire, wanting to know who were his clients? The media, likewise, has been awash with stories of conspiracies and cover ups following the Justice Department's statement that Epstein did no...

Why some think the new 'Superman' movie is about the war in Gaza

Andrew Silow-Carroll | JTA Jul 22, 2025

(JTA) — An amateur film critic named Evan gave the new "Superman" movie five out of five stars. Writing on the Letterboxd platform, they praised the film's "unique visual identity" and called director and screenwriter James Gunn "the best comic director." And they added, "Very anti Israel wh...

Holocaust education has never been more urgent

Lori Shepherd | Arizona Jewish Post Jul 15, 2025

Each year, the Association of Holocaust Organizations, an international network of more than 130 organizations, hosts a summer conference devoted to the advancement of Holocaust education, remembrance and research. Tucson Jewish Museum & Holocaust Center is a proud member of this amazing...

Interest in Alfred Dreyfus is surging. His antisemitic affair has vital lessons for Jews today.

Pamela S. Nadell, Rebecca Kobrin | JTA Jul 8, 2025

(JTA) — Once again, the French Jewish Army captain Alfred Dreyfus is making headlines. More than 130 years after his trial for espionage, and 90 years after his death, France's National Assembly has voted unanimously to raise his rank to brigadier general. As the French Senate weighs in on C...

America the beautiful

Alan Chaim Jablin | Special to the Jewish News Jul 1, 2025

My parents, Markus and Henia Jablonowski, of blessed memory, amazingly survived the Holocaust. They were married in Siberia after only knowing each other for one week. Their families were murdered by the Nazis and their hometowns destroyed. They had nowhere to go after the war officially end...
